The MHA Monthly Calendar is a free, monthly digital publication of the Mecklenburg Historical Association. Its purpose is to inform interested audiences about special events, educational programs, lectures, and workshops held throughout the Charlotte Metrolina area solely for general reference purposes. Those responsible for publicizing history-related events for a history organization (e.g. – historic site, museum, library, other non-profit club/organizations) and needing to publish events should contact the MHA at mha-news@meckdec.org for further information and assistance.

The MHA is not responsible for announcing any changes or cancellations of events prior to or after issue publication. Go to the host organization's website or social media page for specific updates, announcements, cancellation notifications and any additional information.

MHA Announcements

(Note: The MHA reserves the right to publish announcements only once.)

Please support the MHA by attending the Battle of Charlotte/Battle of the Bees on September 2 & 3, 2023 at Historic Rural Hill. Also support our September Dinner Program on September 18th, 2023. Details for these events are contained in the calendar listing below.

History Organization Announcements

(Note: The MHA reserves the right to publish announcements only once.)

The Robinson-Spangler Carolina Room at 101 Eastway Drive will begin receiving appointments from the public on September 1, 2023. When you call us at 704.416.0150 or email us at carolinaroom@cmlibrary.org, please provide us with a detailed description of your research needs so we can pull the books and other materials in advance.

October

October 11th . 7:30-9:00 p.m. Mecklenburg Genealogical Society. Research Your Ancestor’s Brick and Mortar and Break Down Your Brick Wall. Virtual. Free. Register at <https://tinyurl.com/2p93fvv8> . If you have hit a brick wall in your genealogical research, looking into the “professional” side of life is an overlooked but promising avenue for research. Michelle L. Spencer, owner of RomaMaryGrace and genealogical researcher for shows like Finding Your Roots with Henry Louis Gates, Jr will cover how to use resources you may be familiar with but from a different perspective, as well as some new ones to add to your genealogical toolbox.

October 27th . Noon-1 p.m. Native American Studies Center (119 S. Main St., Lancaster, SC 29720). “Lunch and Learn: Halloween: It’s Nothing to Be Afraid of.” In person and virtual. Free. From a Celtic day of the dead to contemporary America’s celebration of all things spooky, Halloween has a rich and diverse history. From a folklorist’s perspective, Dr. Criswell explores the origins and development of the holiday of Halloween as a pre-Christian festival, a Christian holy day designed to help convert early Europeans, and a contemporary carnivalesque celebration for children and adults. To attend via Zoom, register at this link: bit.ly/3kwSXCl. For more information, visit our website.

November

November 3rd . 2 – 3 p.m. Historic Rosedale. “The Ring Shout.” In person. Free. Undergraduate Dance and Music students from UNC-Charlotte perform THE RING SHOUT, a cultural form of dance created by enslaved Africans in the deep South and Lowcountry of the United States during the time of enslavement. The location, Historic Rosedale, is specifically selected as the performance may activate land and spaces in which enslaved Africans and later African Americans occupied.

November 8th . 7:30-9:00 p.m. Mecklenburg Genealogical Society. Goldmines in Colonial Records. Virtual. Free. Register at <https://tinyurl.com/2p93fvv8> . Professional Genealogist and researcher Diane Richard will discuss how to overcome extensive record losses when conducting colonial-era research on your North Carolina ancestors. Recent digitization efforts and resource access, along with an increasing number of new and unique colonial-era focused projects, give us unparalleled access to records of this period and opportunities to dig for gold.
