Dinner Meeting

Monday, March 16, 2020
Dinner at 6:30, Program at 7:15 pm

Fellowship Hall,
Trinity Presbyterian Church
3115 Providence Road
Charlotte, NC  28211

Upcoming Dinner Program

Trinity Presbyterian Church. Dinner is at 6:30 followed by the program at 7:15. Those not having dinner may enjoy the program at no charge. To make a reservation for dinner use the order form in this MHA Newsletter or contact Barbara Taylor at 308 Braxton Dr., Indian Trail 28079, btaylor797@aol.com or 336-404-1751.

Note:
After dinner and before our featured speaker Jim Williams will speak briefly about his late wife Ann and their book The Davidson Family of Rural Hill, North Carolina recently published by McFarland Press. See more on page 4 in this newsletter.

The Southern Woman: Before the Civil War

Sally McMillen will talk about black and white women in the antebellum and Civil War South. She will also tell how a born-and-bred Californian became so intrigued by them.

Professor Emeritus Dr. Sally McMillen recently retired from a long and distinctive career at Davidson College. At the college she held the Mary Reynolds Babcock professorship and was Chair of the History Department for eight years. She was a founder of the Gender and Sexuality Studies Dept at Davidson and author of five books—two on southern women and two on the women’s suffrage movement.

Inside this issue:

Remarks from the President 2
MHA Docent Programs 2
Voices From The Past, April 18 3
Membership Renewal 3
Meeting Reservation Form 3
History News 4
Site News 4
George and Marie Davis 5
The History Calendar 6-8
Remarks from the President

Hello to everyone! As we begin a new year with MHA, I want to thank all of you who work to preserve our amazing Mecklenburg history.

Please take time to renew your MHA membership using the membership renewal blank elsewhere in this newsletter.

Our Program Chair, Barbara Taylor and your Board of Directors have lined up great speakers for our two spring dinner meetings at Trinity Presbyterian Church. Please join us for both the March 16th dinner meeting with Dr. Sally McMillen (reservation form in this newsletter) and the May 11th dinner meeting when Richard Eller will present his film “Miracle” about the 1944 polio epidemic.

Please plan to attend this year’s Voices From The Past presentation at Elmwood/Pinewood and Settlers’ Cemeteries uptown on Saturday, April 18th, from 1:00 - 4:00 pm. Invite your friends and neighbors too. This event is free and open to the public.

I want to welcome Jack Thomson, the new Executive Director of the Charlotte Mecklenburg Historic Landmarks Commission.

Jack comes to us from Asheville where he worked for more than ten years with a private non-profit advocacy organization, the Preservation Society of Asheville and Buncombe County. Prior to that, Jack worked with the Historic Salisbury Foundation.

I have met with Jack and I believe he will be a wonderful asset for our history community. Please invite him to your individual sites for a tour.

A personal note concerning the loss of our dear Ann Williams on February 20th. Ann was one of the most amazing women I know who shared her vast knowledge of our history in the books she and Jim wrote and through her personal research and work with historical organizations throughout our county. Ann will be sorely missed and I am blessed to have known her.

For our MHA dinner meetings in March, May, September, and November, we need people to help set up the Fellowship Hall for each dinner at about 4:00 and people to help with clean-up after the dinners. If you are available to help with one or more of our dinners, please let me know.

Happy Spring to all and I’ll see you on March 16th at Trinity Presbyterian!

Linda Dalton
MHA President
leaseace@aol.com
(704) 661-8470

MHA Docent Programs

Both meetings will be held in the Fellowship Hall of Sugaw Creek Presbyterian Church. Refreshments at 9:30, business meeting at 10, and program at 11. Free, visitors are always welcome.

Tuesday, March 3

Doris Duke: A Woman of Contradiction

Doris Duke was the only and treasured daughter of James Buchanan Duke, industrialist, philanthropist and NC success story who left behind the legacy of Duke Energy, The Duke Endowment and Duke University. A woman of style and great intellect she was also watched closely throughout her life. As a young girl she spent time at the Duke Mansion in Myers Park so that her story and our story are tied together. We also have the rare ability to share the personal stories of Rosalie Reynolds whose mother was a childhood and lifelong friend of Doris Duke.

Pat Martin is the director of development for the Duke Mansion and the Lee Institute where she also supports the efforts to interpret and tell the story of the Duke Mansion and the families who lived there. She has been in Charlotte her whole adult life and she and her husband are the proud parents of two Charlotteans – Kathren and James.

Tuesday, April 7

The Davidson Family of Rural Hill, North Carolina

Major John Davidson was an early settler in the horseshoe bend of the Catawba River in northern Mecklenburg County. Jim Williams will tell us about this family which is the subject of a new book recently published by McFarland Press: The Davidson Family of Rural Hill, North Carolina; Three Generations on a Piedmont Plantation. It was authored by Jim and his late wife Ann who researched and studied this family for over ten years. It is the fascinating story of this extended family which was important in the history of the Carolina backcountry. It tells that story as it developed from the first settlers up to modern times with all of the details and side stories that illuminate the lives of those early families. Signed copies of the book will be available for purchase.

Visit Us Online @ www.meckdec.org
Voices From The Past
Saturday, April 18 from 1 to 4 pm
This will be the fourth year for the MHA Docents to present Voices From The Past, a history tour of Elmwood/Pinewood and Settlers’ Cemeteries. Once again Lynn Mintzer has agreed to chair the project, and she is well on her way to bringing Charlotte another splendid production. During the afternoon about fifty appropriately garbed portrayers will stand beside a grave and assume the persona of the grave’s occupant. Many of last year’s participants will give encore performances, and a number of new characters will join the fold. Each person will give a five-minute snippet from their character’s life; this will give our visitors an opportunity to meet lots of Charlotte’s early citizens.

Settlers’ is the older of the cemeteries. There you’ll find Mrs. Henderson talking about her first husband who occupies the oldest grave, and their very talented daughter. General Graham has a tale about overturned beehives that scattered hundreds of British soldiers, much to their chagrin. William Strange – more clever than odd – was a Scotsman essential to the success of Charlotte’s Mint.

At Elmwood, meet John Springs, Ill who was instrumental in creating the Charlotte and South Carolina Railroad; fittingly he loved to travel. He was buried at Settlers, then was uprooted and moved to Elmwood. What did he think of that journey?

Randolph Scott, Charlotte’s best known film star is always a hit. Chief, the murderous elephant, is good for a bit of drama. At Pinewood meet Romare Bearden’s grandmother.

Membership Renewals
If you have not renewed your MHA membership for 2020, you can do so now. Fill in the form, make your check payable to Mecklenburg Historical Association, and mail to:

MHA, P.O. Box 35032, Charlotte, NC 28235

Thank you for your interest in history.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Membership Category</th>
<th>Single</th>
<th>Couple</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Senior Citizen (over 60)</td>
<td>$15.00</td>
<td>$25.00</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>General</td>
<td>30.00</td>
<td>50.00</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Patron</td>
<td>60.00</td>
<td>100.00</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Life (single payment)</td>
<td>300.00</td>
<td>500.00</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Student</td>
<td>Free</td>
<td>n/a</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

March 16, 2020 Dinner Meeting Reservation Form
Mail to: Mecklenburg Historical Association
c/o Barbara Taylor, 308 Braxton Dr., Indian Trail 28079.

Please make checks payable to Mecklenburg Historical Association.

Questions? Please email Barbara Taylor (btaylor797@aol.com) or call her at 336-404-1751.

We must have your dinner reservation by Thursday, March 12 in order to meet our caterer’s schedule.

Enclosed: $_______________(total) for _______ seats ($12 for Seniors)

$_______________(total) for _______ seats ($14 for all others)

Name Tags: ____________________________ , ____________________________
History News

Archaeological Institute of America, Central Carolinas Chapter Speaker Series, Free

All presentations will take place at 7:30 pm and last about 75 minutes

Semans Auditorium (Room 117), Belk Visual Arts Center, Davidson College, 315 N. Main St., Davidson.

Foreigners as Symbols in Ancient Egyptian Tombs (1550-1372 BCE, Monday March 23.

Dr. Flora Brooke Anthony (Kennesaw State University and University of Georgia) earned a Ph.D. in Art History from Emory University and conducts research about magic, material culture, tomb paintings, and other topics related to ancient Egypt. She also combines scientific and art historical techniques to evaluate authenticity of ancient artifacts.

Site News

Senior Day, Thursday, April 23 from 10 am to 1 pm,

James K. Polk State Historic Site

Calling all local seniors for a day of historical demonstrations, play and talks. This event will feature many of the same things you find at our family events, but with a focus on some of the most dedicated history lovers in our community. In addition to the day’s events we will have a raffle which will raise money for the Friends of President Polk’s Birthplace.

From the Editor: This is a pioneering, ground-breaking program. We have seen special programs in the past for infants, home-schoolers, history clubs, etc. but this is the first to be presented directly to our seniors. In its success it will lead the way for the history community to build even more connections with the larger local community. Come out and enjoy the progress.

Ann Williams

Ann Williams, fiber artist, historian, researcher, author and longtime member of the MHA and the MHA Docents died of bladder cancer on February 20, 2020. We imagine that she would have enjoyed the numeracy of that date, 2/20/2020. She wrote or edited four books plus her last book, The Davidson Family of Rural Hill, North Carolina with her husband Jim, published in January by McFarland Press. At the MHA Meeting on March 16 Jim will speak briefly about her and that book before we hear from the featured speaker—see page one of this newsletter. Afterwards he will sell and sign copies of the book.

He will present a longer version of that talk at the MHA Docent meeting on April 7.

Also, she wrote her own obituary which you may have seen on various web sites. You can pick up a printed copy at either of these two presentation.

"Preserving Mecklenburg’s Heritage"

Post Office Box 35032
Charlotte, North Carolina 28235

Visit us Online
WWW.MECKDEC.ORG
George and Marie Davis: Education Pioneers
Jim Williams

The Charlotte Trail of History on Little Sugar Creek at CPCC is planning the construction of a bronze statues of George and Marie Davis to go on the greenway. If you are descended from the Davises or know someone who is, please contact us. Or if you want to contribute to this worthy cause it would be most welcome. Contact us and we will tell you how.

In the turbulent period of the southern reconstruction, a former slave lifted himself up, got an education including a PhD, and became the first Negro professor at Biddle Institute in Charlotte. That black man was George Edward Davis. Along with his wife Marie Gaston Davis they greatly influenced the education of blacks in North Carolina and in the South.

Biddle Institute, today named Johnson C. Smith University, was one of the first five black colleges founded in the south at the end of the civil war. Today it prospers as one of the leading historically black colleges in the United States. George Davis was born a slave in Wilmington in 1863 and arrived at Biddle in the late 1870s, having attended the Wilmington Normal Institute and then taught school in Laurinburg from the age of 15. He graduated from Biddle in 1883, at the age of 20 and proceeded to Howard University in Washington D. C. to study medicine.

The faculty at Biddle pressed him to come back and become a professor and in 1885, at the age of 23, he became the first black faculty member at Biddle, a decision that would affect many lives in Charlotte, in North Carolina and in the nation. Five years later he received his PhD and in 1905 was appointed Academic Dean, a post he would occupy until retirement.

In 1891 George Davis married Marie Gaston and together they had seven children, five of whom lived to adulthood. In 1908, with her children mostly grown, Marie went to work for the Charlotte School System as a teacher in the Negro schools. In 1913 she became the principal of the Fairview Colored School. This was a wooden building that was replaced by a brick building in 1925. It was the first brick Negro school in Charlotte and "the pride of the community." She remained in that position until her death in 1945. In 1953 the Marie G. Davis School in Charlotte was named in her honor.

Each summer for over 20 years the Davises taught a summer school at Biddle to provide continuing education to Negro teachers in local schools. Over the years this greatly raised the quality of Negro education in Charlotte and the surrounding area.

In 1920-21 Dr. Davis retired from Biddle Institute at the age of 57 to join the North Carolina Department of Public Instruction with responsibility for the Rosenwald construction program. Julius Rosenwald was the President of Sears, Roebuck and Company and a philanthropist. Inspired by Andrew Carnegie and Booker T. Washington he started the Rosenwald School program to build Negro schools with funding from the states and matching funds raised in each local community. Dr. Davis traveled throughout the state to speak to local blacks and persuade them to contribute money and labor to build these schools. He was extremely successful. In his first year in office he traveled 15,000 miles, mostly on dirt roads, and collected nearly $20,000. By 1932, this figure had risen to $666,736, which was used to build over 800 schools and other buildings. In Mecklenburg County there were twenty-six Rosenwald schools. North Carolina built far more schools than any other state and George Davis was responsible for the funds from the black community that made these schools possible. While continuing as principal of the Fairview Colored School, Marie accompanied her husband on many of these trips, speaking to the crowds and meeting with community leaders.

In 1928 the priorities of the Rosenwald Foundation went through a radical change as Mr. Rosenwald hired Edwin Embree from the Rockefeller Foundation to run the organization. The philanthropist Julius Rosenwald died in 1932 and although the Foundation continued in existence, the school building program was terminated.

Dr. Davis had long been active in the North Carolina Teachers Association and had served as President from 1930 to 1932. When his work developing Rosenwald Schools ended he retired from the N. C. Department of Education at age 73 and commenced a new career as the executive director of the NCTA. He directed that organization for the next twelve years until his wife died unexpectedly of a fall in 1944. George Davis died in 1959 at the age of 96 and is buried in Pine Wood cemetery next to his beloved wife Marie.

If you would like to know more about the Davises and the subjects of this article, see:

Inez Moore Parker The Biddle-Johnson C. Smith University Story (Charlotte, 1975).
Inez Moore Parker Archives and Research Center at the James B. Duke Memorial Library, Johnson C. Smith University.
Charlotte City Board of Education Records, J. Murrey Atkins Library Special Collections, University of North Carolina at Charlotte.
Thomas W. Hanchett, "The Rosenwald Schools and Black Education in North Carolina" in North Carolina Historical Review (Raleigh, 1988).
The History Calendar

Admission charged at most events unless otherwise noted. Many of these events sell out so it is best to register at the web sites. Check the Charlotte Regional History Consortium website for other events.

http://www.charlotteregionalhistory.org

Historic Rosedale
3427 N. Tryon Street, Charlotte, NC, 704 335 0325.
http://www.historicrosedale.org

Spring Equinox Celebration, Saturday March 14 from 11:30 am to 12:30 pm.
A celebration of the Spring Equinox - the awakening of Mother Earth. Bring your inner Druid spirit.

Haunted History Tour: Celebration of the Irish, Friday, March 20 at 6:30 to 8 pm.
Our Haunted History Tours takes on an Irish flare! We'll look at Rosedale's Irish connections and celtic haunted folklore.

Annual Oyster Roast, Sunday March 29 from 2 to 5 pm.
Our most popular event of the year and a lowcountry, southern tradition. Sponsorships and reserved tables are available and tickets will sell out quickly.

Rosedale Garden Tours.
Beginning April 15 there will be special garden tours every Wednesday at 12:30 pm.

Haunted History Tour, Friday, April 24 at 6:30 to 8 pm.
Our popular Haunted History tours are back for 2020. Learn about Rosedale’s history, stories, and the spirits who may have been left.

Historic Latta Plantation
5225 Sample Road, Huntersville, NC, 704 875 2312.
http://www.lattaplantation.org

Beginner Basket Weaving Workshop, Saturday March 7 at 10 am to 2 pm, $30.00 per person.
Learn the basics of basket weaving and make a charming D-handle Easter basket to keep. All the materials including pastel colored reed will be provided. Limited to 10 participants. Pre-registration is required.

8th Annual Celtic Festival, Saturday, March 14 and Sunday, March 15 at 10 am to 4 pm.
Join us for two days of Historic Festivities including Celtic Musicians and Dancers, Bagpipers, Celtic Warriors in action, and Historic Encampments, Weavers, Spinners, Artisans, Blacksmiths, Leatherworkers, Bakers, Food Trucks and Craft Beer.

Celtic Festival Outlander After-Party, Saturday, March 14 at 6 to 9 pm, Reservations Required.
Celebrate the End of Droughtlander at the Celtic Festival After-Party. Join the Frasers and MacKenzie for an evening of North Carolina Highlander fun. Live Celtic music and dancing plus prizes for best Jamie and Claire costumes. Food and alcohol will be for sale.

Open Hearth Cooking Workshop, Saturday, March 28 at 10 am to 2 pm.
In this hands-on workshop, you’ll learn more complex techniques of cooking over an open hearth and get to taste everything cooked in the workshop. The menu will include seasonal selections consisting of meat or chicken, vegetables, breads and dessert. Participants should have some experience with open hearth cooking, wear closed toed shoes and bring a water bottle.

Annual Easter Egg Hunt, Saturday, April 11 at 10 am to 3 pm.
A ticket, a tasket, grab your basket! The Latta Annual Easter Egg Hunt offers egg hunts organized by age groups: 1-3, 4-6 and 7-10 years old. Eggs will be filled with surprises and dozens of special eggs will hold prizes for free family memberships, summer camp discounts and goodie-filled baskets. The day includes photo opportunities with Baxter the Bunny, story-time, games, meeting the farm animals—there’s sure to be some lambs—and time to stroll through the house and grounds. Bring a picnic basket and enjoy a day of old-fashioned family fun.

Backcountry Soldiers at the Encampment, Saturday, April 18 and Sunday, April 19 at 10 am to 5 pm.
Experience camp life as a Revolutionary War soldier with the Piedmont Partisans at Historic Latta. It’s spring 1781. Observe the daily lives and roles of the American patriot militia and how they prepared for battle, cooked, built fires, and repaired their equipment. Witness weapons and tactics that the militia used during the war.

Felted Wool Workshop, Saturday, April 25 at Noon to 2 pm, Registration Required.
Learn how to felt wool while making this adorable little lamb. Each participant will be taught how to felt wool while they make their project lamb using wool from Latta sheep, and will receive a felting tool kit to keep.

Fiddle & Fire: A Night at the Museum, Saturday, April 25 at 6 to 9 pm.
This night under the stars includes live music, star gazing, a candle-lit tour of the historic Latta home, speirs tastings and marshmallow roasting by the fire. Also participate in hearth cooking in the kitchen, woodworking in the carriage barn, making a beeswax candle by the fire and sampling fresh apple cider. Bring your own picnic blanket, dinner, and non-alcoholic beverage of choice and buy wine and beer on site.

The Charlotte Museum of History
3500 Shamrock Drive, Charlotte, NC, 704 568 1774.
http://www.charlottemuseum.org

Taste of History: Beer from the Backcountry, Thursday, March 12 at 6:30 to 8:30 pm.
Take a sip of history & explore the roots of your favorite adult beverage with expert historians. This adults-only program will dive into the history and culture of beer in colonial NC, featuring insights from Tom Cole, Special Collections Librarian at Charlotte Mecklenburg Library and home-brewer extraordinaire.

Charlotte Readers Podcast with Scott Syfert, Saturday, March 21 from 2 to 3 pm.
Charlotte Readers Podcast will conduct a live one-hour podcast with Scott Syfert, Charlotte native and author of “The First American Declaration of Independence?” about the disputed Mecklenburg Declaration of Independence in the shadow of one of signers of the mysterious document.

Colonial Gem Fundraising Event, Thursday, April 23 from 6 to 8:30 pm.
Join the Charlotte Museum of History for a magical evening on the beautiful lawns and gardens of Mecklenburg County’s oldest home, the 1774 Hezekiah Alexander Homestie. Colonial Geming is the premier fundraising event for the Museum — Mecklenburg County’s leader in interpreting and preserving the region’s unique history and inspiring dialogue about the future.

Historic Brattonsville
1444 Brattonsville Rd., McConnells, SC, 803 684 2327
http://www.chmuseums.org/brattonsville

Children’s Day on the Farm, Saturday, March 28 from 10 am to 4 pm.
The agricultural heritage of the Carolina Piedmont is celebrated on the farm. This event highlights work and play on the farm during the 18th and 19th centuries. The 800 acre living-history plantation has fields to plow, cows to milk, and newborn farm animals to tend to.

Special presenters include Bright Star Theatre presenting “Beauty and the Beast” at 11 am and 2 pm, Leonard Bergey with a plowing and cultivating demonstration and the Zebu miniature cows. There will also be candle-dipping, carding and spinning, quill pen writing, woodworking, rag dolls, butter-churning, blacksmithing, laundry, 19th century cooking, toys and games and gardening.

Uncertain Times on the Homefront:
1865, Saturday April 18 from 10 am to 4 pm.
This is a living history event centering on the end of the Civil War in the Carolina Piedmont. It explores the fear that the white community felt as the Confederacy’s loss became inevitable and the hope that the enslaved community felt as freedom became the law of the land.

President James K. Polk State Historic Site
12031 Lancaster Hwy., Pineville, NC, 704 889 7145
www.polk.nchistoricsites.org

Year of the Woman: Women Making History, Saturday March 7 at 10 to 11:30 am, Free.
2020 is the 100th anniversary of the 19th Amendment, our city will host the Republican National Convention, the Department of Natural and Cultural Resources is celebrating the Year of the Woman, and we will be opening a temporary exhibit on women’s suffrage in North Carolina. We want to keep the themes of women changing history through political action going as we facilitate an open group discussion on women’s activism.

The Life of Ella Mae Wiggins, Saturday March 14 at 10:30 am to noon, Free.
During this program Jason Luker, Director of the Gaston County Museum of Art and History, will be examining Ella May Wiggins, her difficult life, her role in the 1929 Loray Mill textile strike, and how her words and deeds still challenge us today.

Spring Volunteer Open House, Saturday, March 21 from 10 am to Noon, Free.
Those who love history, enjoy interacting with people and/or have a special modern or historical skill are invited to join us and become a volunteer. Learn about volunteer opportunities, take a tour of the site, and meet current volunteers to discuss their experiences.

Sorting Out the New South City, Saturday April 11 at 2 to 4:30 pm, Free.
A new edition of Charlotte Historian Tom Hanchett’s book, Sorting Out the New South City, is being released with color maps and a more accessible price. Join us to hear from Tom about his seminal work on Charlotte’s 20th century development, the new edition, and his life since retiring from his position as Historian at the Levine Museum of the New South. The talk will be followed by a book signing.

Senior Day, Thursday, April 23 from 10 am to 1 pm, Free.
Calling all local seniors for a day of historical demonstrations, play and talks. This event will feature many of the same things you might find at our family events, but with a focus on some of the most dedicated history lovers in our community. In addition to the day’s events we will also have a raffle that will raise money for the Friends of President Polk’s Birthplace, a non-profit 501c3 organization that makes events like this one possible.

Earth Day Workshop, Saturday, April 25 at 11:30 am to 1 pm, Free.
Celebrate Earth Day with an eco-friendly craft project that the whole family can enjoy.

---

Fort Dobbs State Historic Site
438 Fort Dobbs Road, Statesville, NC 704 873 5882
http://www.fortdobbs.org

The Defense of Fort Dobbs, Saturday, February 29 from 10 am to 8 pm with a Battle at 7 pm. Sunday March 1 from 10 am to 3 pm.
On February 27, 1760, the garrison of Fort Dobbs engaged in a bloody, confusing, night-time skirmish with Cherokee warriors. This living history event will give visitors a glimpse of what life was like for those involved through ongoing displays of camp and barracks life, as well as scheduled musket and cannon firing demonstrations.

The War for Empire, Saturday April 4 from 10 am to 4 pm, Sunday April 5 from 10 am to 3 pm.
In Fort Dobbs’ largest event of the year, join soldiers, American Indians, and civilians from the 18th Century as we look at the French & Indian War history of North Carolina. Trades demonstrations, vendors, period musical performances, and historic weapons firings will be featured.

Kings Mountain Historical Museum
100 East Mountain Street, Kings Mountain, NC 704 739 1019
www.kingsmountainmuseum.org

Language of Clay: Catawba Indian Pottery & Oral Traditions, Exhibit Open February 11 through May 9, Free.
Presented by the Catawba Indian Nation, this exhibit is based on collections at the University of South Carolina Lancaster and examines Catawba Indian Pottery and oral traditions in the twentieth century.

A World of Transformation: The Lives of Catawba Indian Women, 1746-1840, Saturday, March 14 at 2 to 3 pm, Free.
Dr. Brooke Bauer is a citizen of the Catawba Indian Nation of South Carolina, and an Assistant Professor of History and Native American Studies at the University of South Carolina Lancaster. Her research concentrates specifically on the ways in which Catawba Indian Women created, promoted, and preserved a Catawba identity as they adapted to changes occurring inside and outside Catawba tribal boundaries during the eighteenth and early nineteenth centuries. Her talk will focus on women’s intimate relationship to Catawba land through their shared history, kinship connections, and their economic productivity.

Reed Gold Mine State Historic Site

9621 Reed Mine Rd., Midland, NC 28163, 704 721 GOLD (4653)

https://historicsites.nc.gov/all-sites/reed-gold-mine

More Than A Woman, Saturday, March 7 at 1 pm.
Sarah Kiser Reed, the wife of John Reed, played an important role in the history of Reed Gold Mine and helped change her family’s fortunes. There are few extant documents about Sarah but her life can be extrapolated from the lives of that era. This presentations focus on what is known about her and what life was like for other North Carolinian women at that time. Special attention will be paid to the women who worked in gold mining, including both free and enslaved women.

Historic Rural Hill

4431 Neck Road, Huntersville, NC, 704 875 3113, http://www.ruralhill.net

[they fight] - An Immersive Dinner Theatre Experience, Saturday, April 4 at 7 pm, $40.00.
Free Reign Theatre and Historic Rural Hill present a night of killed Shakespeare, Robin Hood and the Three Musketeers. There will be a three course meal a glass of Scotch whiskey and famous theatrical fight scenes performed in the round. Dress code is (optional) Scottish wear. Doors open at 6 pm, and show starts at 7. A cash bar will provide scotch, beer, and wine. Proceeds will benefit the educational, farming, and historic preservation programs at Historic Rural Hill.

Andrew Jackson State Park

196 Andrew Jackson Park Road, Lancaster, SC 803 285 3344

Andrew Jackson’s 253rd Birthday Celebration, Saturday, March 21 from 10 am to 4 pm.
At this annual celebration there will be crafters demonstrating and selling their crafts, Revolutionary War reenactors firing their muskets, tours of the museum and the one-room school house and shopping in the gift shop. For the children there will be Colonial toys, quill pen writing, butter churning and candle dipping. There will be a plant sale and refreshments will be available.

Guilford Courthouse National Military Park

Greensboro, NC.

http://www.nps.gov/guco/index.htm

The Battle of Guilford Courthouse 239th Anniversary, Saturday and Sunday March 14-15.
This weekend Battle Commemoration takes place throughout Guilford Courthouse National Military Park and Country Park. The schedule of events will be posted in February. There will be a Revolutionary Lecture Series with scholars of the American Revolution on the evenings of Wednesday through Friday, March 11 to 13. Information will be available in February. Call (336) 288-1776 to make a reservation.

York County Library

138 E. Black Street, Rock Hill, SC.
www.yclibrary.org

Genealogy Class: Census Records, Thursday, March 5 at 6 to 8 pm.
In this recurring class on genealogy, take a fresh look at the census, the most popular genealogical source. Learn how to use this valuable resource and discover what you may have overlooked the last time you used it.

Genealogy and Family History Expo, Saturday, March 21, All Day.
An exciting all day genealogy expo at the Main Library in Rock Hill. Learn from top genealogists, meet representatives from area genealogical, lineage, and historical societies, and win a free DNA kit and genealogy books. Special presentations include DNA and genetic genealogy research, African-American genealogy, South Carolina court records, and the latest tech tools for genealogy.

Native American Studies Center, USC Lancaster
119 S. Main St. Lancaster, SC 29720 803 313 7172

Whether restoring rivercane in North Carolina or raising organic foods in Northwest Washington, eighteen banners in this exhibit from the Smithsonian tell the stories of the Confederated Tribes of the Umatilla Indian Reservation, Tulalip Tribes, Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians, and Native Hawaiians and the ecological revitalization efforts these nations are making.

Celebrating comedy and humor, events include an art and craft festival, film screening, an art exhibit opening, an interactive painting demonstration, storytelling, a lecture discussing Native American trickster figures, and more.

Native American Art and Craft Sale, Saturday March 21 from 9 am to 4 pm.
Beautiful and unique arts including baskets, jewelry and pottery, from a number of talented Indigenous artists plus storytellers throughout the day.

“Powwow Highway” Film Screening, Monday, March 23 at 5:30 to 7:30 pm, 87 Minutes.
This drama/comedy follows two Cheyenne friends on a road trip as they journey to Santa Fe in a 1964 Buick Wildcat named “Protector.” Followed by a Q&A session with USCL Professor Claudia Heinemann-Priest.

“Tricksters” Lecture and Storytelling, Tuesday March 24 at 4 to 5:30 pm.
Folklorist and Director of Native American Studies Dr. Stephen Criswell presents a talk about Native American trickster figures. Criswell will be joined by Catawba artist and guest storyteller Beckee Garris.