The MHA Monthly Calendar is a free, monthly digital publication of the Mecklenburg Historical Association. Its purpose is to inform interested audiences about special events, educational programs, lectures, and workshops held throughout the Charlotte Metrolina area solely for general reference purposes. Those responsible for publicizing history-related events for a history organization (e.g. – historic site, museum, library, other non-profit club/organizations) and needing to publish events should contact the MHA at mha-news@meckdec.org for further information and assistance.

The MHA is not responsible for announcing any changes or cancellations of events prior to or after issue publication. Go to the host organization's website or social media page for specific updates, announcements, cancellation notifications and any additional information.

A book about local history is coming back into print - and at 270 pages long, it is a wonderful genealogical and Mecklenburg County research companion.

Steele Creek: An Early History by Linda Blackwelder is at the printing house now, and I am honored to have partnered with Linda to once again make her 2018 epic book available to any interested Mecklenburg County historian and history enthusiast. It sold out 3 times and is being brought back this time in a limited 500-copy run.

Colorful Matthews: A Coloring Book

Barbara Taylor, former Director of Matthews Heritage Museum and Barbara Stegall, Matthews Heritage Museum docent, former teacher, and pre-school director have created a delightful coloring book exploring the historic buildings of Matthews.

COLORFUL MATTHEWS features 15 pages of original pen and ink drawings of historic structures that can be colored. The artists are local history enthusiasts, Janet Dyer and Phil Tappy. These pictures are followed by information about each structure. Each page is perforated, and the 8 ½ x 11 format makes it easy to frame.

Among the featured structures are Matthews Heritage Museum, Renfrow's Hardware Store, Matthews Historic Cemetery, and Outen's pottery Kiln. Some of these landmarks are not well known by the local population, but this coloring book gives children, parents, and grandparents an opportunity to learn about the Matthews community, while they enjoy coloring each historic site. Each building's address is listed, as well as the history and year it was built, and the name of the current business, if appropriate. These books are now on sale for $10 per copy.

The Mecklenburg Genealogical Society is seeking nominations and volunteers for 2025. We continually require a group of volunteers behind the scenes to maintain all benefits of the society. The 2025 board positions are: President, Vice President, Program Chair, Membership Secretary, Treasurer, Recording Secretary, Correspondence Secretary, and Director. If you would like to join our board or nominate someone who could serve in that capacity, email us at info@oldemeck.org.

On November 13, Kendall McGeorge, Public Programs Manager at the Charlotte Museum of History, will speak at the Mecklenburg Genealogical Society monthly meeting. Kendall will speak about the Siloam School Project, which moved one of Mecklenburg County's oldest remaining African American schoolhouses and one of our community's last standing Rosenwald-era schools to the Museum's eight-acre campus. A full list of upcoming meetings can be found at: <https://tinyurl.com/oldemeck>
